

Manual Conventions

This manual uses the following conventions:

- Bold indicates a term defined in the glossary.
- Italic refers to a related document, or is used for emphasis.
- The cursive letter ℓ is used in some examples to distinguish the letter “l” from the numeral “1” (one).
- A slash zero Ø is used in some examples and escape sequences to distinguish the letter “O” from the number “0”.
- 0x XX represents a hexadecimal number (XX).
- The ↪ character indicates that the current line of code is a continuation of the previous line.

Note

Notes contain important information set off from the text.

